

Release of Liability for Beekeeping Activities

I, _____, agree to in no way hold any person or business responsible for any accidents, injury, property damage, or death occurring to me because of handling or working with bees and their equipment while acting as a patron of the Beekeeping Tour/Experience with Steele Legacy Honey and Crafts located in Caldwell, Idaho. I also agree that this liability waiver also applies to accidents, injury, property damage, or death occurring if I am performing a task outside of the scope of my responsibilities as directed to me as a patron of the Beekeeping Tour/Experience for Steele Legacy Honey and Crafts.

I understand that bees are wild, unpredictable insects, and inherently dangerous and that accidents can and do occur while handling and working with bees and equipment owned by Steele Legacy Honey and Crafts. I understand and agree that I am working with these insects at my own risk and getting stung can cause allergic reactions. I agree to in no way hold Steele Legacy Honey and Crafts liable or responsible or any of their agents, employees, contractors, or executives responsible for any accident, injury, or death occurring to myself, my guests, or my personal property because of participating in the previously mentioned activities.

I have read, understand, and agree to the above.
